Quality Research.

The quality and accuracy of our research is the key to your success. We are not a list broker. Every Qualigence project begins with new research, the data you receive is as up to date as the day you receive it. Based on your industry, we strategize with you to determine where to best find the professionals that not only fit the criteria of your position, but also the culture of your organization. Your results provide you 100% of the talent pool that is currently working in the functions you seek and within the organizations selected. You will receive information that includes names, titles, phone numbers, and reporting structures.

Quality Recruitment.

No other recruiting provider recruits like Qualigence...our recruiters would certainly testify to that! Our approach is unique and has proven successful time and time again. Leveraging the information obtained by our dedicated staff of recruitment research professionals, our recruiters will engage, develop, evaluate and recommend the best candidate for the position and your company culture.

Unique Hourly Fee Structure.

The hourly fee structure also allows you to hire as many candidates as you wish for only the cost of the time incurred to complete your assignment. In addition, the research data you receive is yours to utilize for current or future hiring needs.
